Art Unit: 1762

1. The claims 1-13 remain in the application.
2. Claims 7-9, 12 and 13 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 7-9, 12 and 13 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The Examiner questions how the reactive hydroxyl species are “generated” when they are used to etch the substrate. The Examiner questions whether the term should have recited “hydroxyl radicals”. Clarification is requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,4,6,10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Feldstein (4,321,285).

Feldstein (4,321,285) teaches electroless plating whereby metallic surfaces are imparted to a non-conductive or dielectric substrate by an electroless coating process comprising coating the surface of the substrate with a hydrous oxide colloid of non-precious metal ions, such as cobalt, nickel, etc., reducing the selected metal ions to a reduced or zero valence state with a reducing agent and subsequently exposing the substrate to an electroless plating solution to form a metal layer (abstract). The reducing agent can include a borane or hydride. The electroless coating can be copper (col. 5, line 8 – col. 6, line 25).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1762

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Feldstein (4,321,285).

Features described above are incorporated here.

Feldstein (4,321,285) fails to teach etching with a reactive hydroxyl species.

While the Examiner acknowledges this fact, Feldstein (4,321,285) teaches that the substrate is "previously etched with the hydrous oxide colloid" (col. 5, line 28). Hence the substrate is "treated" to accept the catalytic species which is subsequently reduced and plated. It is the Examiner's position that one skilled in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of achieving similar success regardless of how the non-conductive substrate is "etched" prior to contacting with the catalyst solution. If applicant disagrees, applicant is invited to supply a showing of unexpected results regarding this technical feature.

6. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Feldstein (4,321,285) in combination with Giesecke (4,568,570).

Features described above are incorporated here.

Feldstein (4,321,285) fails to teach silver as the "catalyst".

Giesecke (4,568,570) teaches using silver as an activating catalyst for electroless plating.

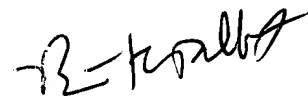

Art Unit: 1762

Therefore, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to have modified Feldstein (4,321,285) process by utilizing silver as the "catalyst" as evidenced by Giesecke (4,568,570) because of the expectation of achieving similar success regardless of the catalyst utilized.
